Victims and Human Trafficking - Readings for Assignment

Introduction:

This resource list is a selection of readings from the website about victims of human trafficking specifically selected to support participants completing the Victims and Human Trafficking assignment.

The resources are a mixture of materials to raise awareness and educate about victims of trafficking and vary from quick easy reading with simple messages and definitions used to inform and educate, to a copy of the United Nations Palermo protocol and US Trafficking in People that provides comprehensive data and compliance reports for all its signatories.

Any trainer/facilitator or person assessing the assignment should make themselves familiar with the material and pre-select the reading that is applicable for the intent of the training session and choose the reading that fits with the level of participants.

Some of the reading material is provided in a hard copy, with a link if possible. The material listed in the digital resources are only accessible from the internet links that we have provided. You might find other resources and articles that can be added to the list and this should be refreshed as often as possible.

If participants have access to the internet, they can source their own copies to read. Otherwise, consider printing all the resources and create your own 'library' of articles and allow the participants to read and exchange these before the session.

These are my recommendations for essential reading.

- Polaris articles – for the simple way they presented the concepts and information which would suit education and raising awareness
- UN Article 6 of the ‘Palermo Protocol’ – specifically related to trafficking and clearly sets out the obligations and responsibilities and has significance for courts
- ‘Fighting human trafficking from multiple angles’ – concise and evocative using simple language, addressing the steps and approaches needed to combat human trafficking
- UN ‘Trafficking in persons report, 20th edition’ – giving a summary on the state of each country and recommendations for the actions required to improve.
- NZ Ministry of Business, Innovation and Enterprise, 2020 – ‘Combating Modern Forms of Slavery - Draft Plan of Action against Forced Labour, People Trafficking and Slavery, 2020-25’
Action plan for ideas for consideration in the assignment
- U.S. Department of State, June 2020 – ‘Trafficking in persons report, 20th edition’ comprehensive with findings and information on different forms of trafficking, initiatives and the narratives give statistics and data on performance for all signatory countries as well as recommendations on actions to take to improve. The narratives are the largest portion of the document but the most relevant for individual countries
